CAREER

as an equine media professional?

American Horse Publications (AHP) can start your professional journey. Our membership association of equine-related publications, media professionals, businesses and organizations has been opening doors to students pursuing a career in equine media since 1993.

What former students say about AHP programs:

"The connections I formed and the community I gained have proved invaluable as I've continued on in the industry with my professional career."

Catie Staszak
President & CEO, Catie Staszak Media, Inc.;
FEI Commentator and Journalist

"The opportunity to attend the AHP conference shaped my career in so many ways. I was able to network with inspiring professionals and gain practical insight and valuable industry-specific advice which helped jumpstart my freelance writing career."

Lucile Vigouroux
Brand Manager at Miller & Associates Equine Veterinarians, and Freelance Author for The Horse Magazine.

"The AHP Student Award Program was a true launch pad for my equine media career. I highly recommend participation in this program for all aspiring equine media professionals."

Jessica Hein
Senior Director of MemberCare, American Paint Horse Association, Editor-in-Chief, Chrome & Paint Horse Journal
